The Poir of Savannah Desertors from Lee's Array Important Political Special Dispatch to the Sticago Tribuns.]

In compliance with the request of the key of the Savannah, the city will probably be declared a port of entry, and thrown open to commerce as soon as the obstructions in waters and approaches are romoved.

During the last five ys 887 deserters from Lee's army have come the Grant's lines. The majority of them are Georgiana, Tenesseeans, and North Carolinians. Eighteen men were exceuted at Petersburg in one say has seed for attempting to desert to our lines. Thousands are deterred from coming over on account of the extreme vigor of the rebel authorities in this respect. Cases of attempting desertion are tried by a drum-head court martial. Instant death is the punishment inflieted.

S. Fark, Thesday, Jan. 19.

The Senatorial caucus, last night, resulted in the nomination of Daniel S. Norton. His friends are no less surprised at this result than his opponents. The caucus lasted until one o'clock this morning. Thirty-two ballots were taken, twenty-five votes being necessary to a choice.

The lat ballot stood Wilkinson, 16; Norton, 19; Swift, 11; Windom, 10. On the 19th ballot, H. M. Rice, the last Democratic Semator from this State, was introduced and received 11 votes. The most effectual remedy is to open a channel for the water of the lake through the city. This done, and all anxiety as to the health of our people and the mather of our mater are discussed of forcall time.

S. The fact that a Beman Catholic Bishop hapties a million of his own converts proves too much. It is as strong an argument against the modern Protestants. For Christ, never had any such success, neither did his Apostles. This would amount to the bapties each day during a lifetime of seventy years, or one every seven minutes for twelve hours each day during a lifetime of seventy years, which is as long a period as is allotted to most Bishops. How much each emperis are worth is matter of reasonable doubt.

4. There are notoriously two ways of converting all men—one is to lower your religion. The former has easy; the latter difficult. The former makes many convert the latter few. The Protestant urges to unese Catholic coveraions "by the million" that they are of the former class—unerely substituting the name of God for Beahma. Wolf river at Moscow. A portion of the infantry own at Memphis has been placed under orders and is ready to embark apon the steamers for New Orleans. There is also a concentration of troops at passent at Little Rock, Ark, the seeming object being an early mevement upon the Red. River country. This idea is favored by the late evacuation of Fort Smith by the orders of firig. Gen. J. M. Thayer, and the removal of all his forces to Little Rock.

This evacuation of Fort Smith by General Thayer necessitated the removal of all the really Union people at the Fort. They could not expect to remain there in any safety, and the place was filled to overflowing with refugees from the adjacent country, who were living in tents, in shantlis and in the open ut, within the Fort, to escape the predatory bends of partizan rangers who rendered existence in their homes a desperate and in many cases a fatal experiment. The primal cause of the evacuation was undombtedly the lack of forage for the Federal cavalry. A supply had been cut, but the confidentates had succeeded in burning and destroying it. Another reason for the new field River expedition.

The place was evacuated. And now the people who are able to do so are removing, beg and baggage, to Memphis and further north. Many will be dundisputed sway over the aurounding country. With this channel roughly opened with a dredge—the width of a dredge—and say alout air feet in depth, the Des Piaines would rapidly oren it probably 100 feet or more in width, and ten to fifteen feet in depth. This done, and we have only to lower the old bed of the river from the end of the channel to Athena, and the waters of Lake Michigan run into the lithinois and relieve the city, except the North Branch.

A dredge, or dredges, can do this work, at all seasons, and it could be accompilished probably in half the time it would take to reduce the canal to the deep cut by working in winter only.

If the ditch to the Des Plaines was opened this winter, the spring fesshets might make a liver of it at ones and turn all the water of the Desplaines through the time it would have been tried by the city long ago.

FROM REBELDOM. Alleged Indications of the Evacuation of Richmond Jeff, Bavis Quarreling with Behel Governors - The Bint Peace Mission - Faility of the Charges of Airodiy Buring Sherman's Barch, de-

Naw Your, Jou. 10.-The Berald's Win chester correspondent details a conversation with a man recently from Richmond, who says the rebels are busy preparing for cracu-stion. Much Government property and many officials have been already sent off to the in-terior. Jeff has been convinced that he-cannot hold the city nuch longer, and it is eing mined.

Late rebei papers show that Jeff. Davis as now on his hands quarrels with the covernors of Mississippi, Georgia and Alahas now on his habits quarrent and Ala-Governors of Mississippi, Georgia and Ala-bams.

The Richmond Waig thinks the recent al-leged peace commission of the two Blairs en-titled the United States to be considered the

The Charleston Courier says: Hood has Batchered his troops as recklessly as according to the Richmond Sentined, ever Grant did.

The Richmond Whis prints testimony from a Savannah elergynsen, General Wayns and General Beauregard, that the reported atrectice charged upon Sharman's acray at Miledgeville, are wholly unfounded. The ladies of Miledgeville also write that no such violence was even attempted.

The Richmond Ensurance Tillenies the idea of the citizen's meeting at Savannah, saying it was somposed of seventeen persons.

of the reconnoiseance. The true stalement of the ineidents that gave rise to the runor is this:

First—A shot from the ships of war cut the rebel flagstaff, and it toppled over and outside tha fort. A gallant officer of the 1424 New York, in Weikzel's skirmish line, ran the to the outer ditch of the Fort and brought of the flag.

Second—The dispatch-bearer, who was said to be first by one of our men, was killed, not inside the Fort, and his hopes, brought out by one of our men, was killed, not inside the Fort, but one-third of a mile from the.

Third—The shot said to be first by one of our men into a bomb-proof full of rebels, was fired, not inside the Fort, but by a sharp-shouter in Weitzel's skirmish line, who first first years with the flourth, 3,500 thalers in the shouth as away some rebels. Whether he lut any of them is not knowe, but it is known that not one of our men got inside the Fort, or the passes three days, the rebels sent down heavy rein forcements to Sugar Louf camp, in the vicinity of the Fort; and these veinforcements were ready to assiss the Fort in case of an assant. Gen. Butter's entire force was but is saint, some passes, the close; the first increases, and this, too, when the receipts of longs and other profits on the passes.

but to alkappearances, as time passes, the close; mess of the market increases, and this, too, when the receipts of hope and other predice are musi-nily light. Operators of all kinds—in grain, pork and whisky—are crippled in their endeavors to do business, and the prices of produce for in-mediate delivery are much lower in proportion than for delivery a month hence, when it is secrepted that the
